10. Q&A SESSION

As all Resolutions had been proposed, the Chairman proceeded to take questions from the shareholders and/or their proxies. A summary of the questions and answers is set out below:

10.1 A shareholder referred the Meeting to page 111 of the AR and enquired on the Group’s plans for the property development in Melaka, Malaysia which work remained suspended since 1998. The Chairman explained that the Group owns a freehold property located at Lot 981, Kawasan Bandar VII, Daerah Melaka Tengah, Malaysia, which was a partially built abandoned structure earmarked for development. The Group, together with its joint venture partner, had been studying the feasibility of the property development since inception of the joint venture arrangement and was of the view that a proposed mixed development project (the “Melaka Project”) would be quite viable barring unforeseen circumstances. The Group had explored construction arrangements with potential partners to manage the construction risks of the Melaka Project. However, the development plan had been put to a standstill due to the financial position of these potential partners and the weak economic conditions in Melaka as well as in Peninsula Malaysia, brought about by the COVID-19 pandemic. Nevertheless, the Board was still hopeful that these partnerships could be revived and the Group could move on with the Melaka Project.

10.1.1 The shareholder further enquired whether the 48-unit high-rise apartment units in Cameron Highlands would be put up for sale and requested for the budgeted construction costs for the said development (the “Block D Project”). The Chairman responded that the high-rise apartments to be built under the Block D Project were intended for sale, and the estimated construction costs could be between RM300 to RM400 per square foot (“psf”) with selling price of about RM600 psf.

10.1.2 The shareholder also enquired on the plans for KEA Farm, which is situated near Copthorne Hotel Cameron Highlands (“CHCH”), and whether it would be demolished to make way for a new extension of the hotel. He also would like to know the estimated construction costs of the said development.

The Chairman explained that KEA Farm is one of the agricultural tourist attractions located in Cameron Highlands. However, the Group did not own KEA Farm. The Group currently has two projects in Cameron Highlands, namely the Block D Project and the major refurbishment of the old commercial complex, which is next to CHCH, into additional hotel rooms and meeting facilities (the “EC Project”). CHCH is the largest hotel in Cameron Highlands and given its good location being situated at the highest point of Cameron Highlands, the hotel would be able to increase its room capacity and meet the needs for MICE (meetings, incentives, conventions and exhibitions) facilities. Pending the receipt of approvals from the relevant local authorities, the construction work for the two projects was slated to commence within the next two years.

The CFO informed that the renovation costs of the EC Project was budgeted to be approximately RM25 million to RM30 million. The Chairman added that there were also cost savings given that the EC Project was not considered a high-end development and there was already an existing structure of the commercial complex. Substantial air-conditioning expenses could also be reduced given the cool weather climate in Cameron Highlands.

10.2 A shareholder enquired whether the currency denomination of the cash balance reported in the AR were in Singapore Dollars or Malaysia Ringgit. The CFO replied that the Group’s cash balances were mainly denominated in Singapore Dollars.

10.2.1 The shareholder expressed concern over the Group’s hospitality business which had been susceptible to the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. He enquired on the Group’s forward plan and strategy, particularly in light of the Group’s large cash position.

The Chairman explained that the Group’s cash surplus of about S$56 million might appear large relative to the size of the Group. In absolute terms however, such amount would not be considered big and the Group would require more cash to fund the Melaka Project, the Block D Project and the EC Project if these projects were to be constructed concurrently. Financing options from banks might not be a viable alternative for the Group due to the uncertainties in the real estate industry in Malaysia. The Board is therefore looking at self-financing options to fund the Group’s projects and operations, and intends to conserve cash at the moment. Pending such cash deployment, the Group would still be able to benefit from the interest income earned by placing this cash in existing fixed deposits.

10.3 A shareholder congratulated the Board in turning the Company into profitability. Having noted that the Group’s profits were mainly contributed by the revenue from the hospitality business in Malaysia, the shareholder enquired if the Board had considered hedging its foreign currency exposure.

The Chairman replied that the earnings from the business in Malaysia, in comparison against the cash holding of the Group, were not substantial. As such, it would not be necessary and cost effective to do hedging since the Group’s cash were mostly denominated in Singapore Dollars.

10.3.1 The shareholder enquired whether the Board had considered a different use of the land for the Melaka Project, perhaps as a data centre.

The Chairman explained that several consultants had been engaged to explore the potential use of the land and the partially built abandoned structure at Melaka, and the proposal then for the Group was to commercially develop the Melaka Project.

Nevertheless, the Board would re-evaluate the Melaka Project and he thanked the shareholder for her suggestion.

10.3.2 The shareholder gave the following comments on the AR and AGM:

- (i) The Company could consider inserting key financial highlights in the front section of the AR, for ease of reading.
- (ii) Shareholders might not be familiar with scanning the QR code printed on the postcard which had been mailed to shareholders, and some shareholders had to search for the Company's announcement relating to the AGM released on SGX's website instead. The Company could consider setting out the venue of the AGM in its postcard notice to shareholders, going forward.
- (iii) The AGM registration had not been a smooth process and could have been more efficient to avoid delay in registering attendees for the AGM.

The Chairman noted on the above and thanked the shareholder for her feedback.
